

Why do we get more information about what we put ON our bodies than what we put IN our bodies?

Clothing labels are required to disclose fabric types and care instructions.

Shouldn't people be given information about the calories in the foods they eat?

Support Menu Labeling

For more information contact Michelle Forman at the Center for Science in the Public Interest (mforman@cspinet.org or 202-777-8358).